Your benefits:

Both you and your customers will benefit from our handy calculators that help to select the correct Blum fittings for any requirement in a quick and easy process. For your customers, this means a higher level of convenience and safety. For you, this means fewer queries and complaints as well as fewer time-consuming and costly returns.

Straightforward integration

Integration into your web shop couldn’t be easier: we provide the link for the desired calculator, and you place it wherever you want.

Selecting the correct product results in fewer queries and returns

If you help your customers select the correct products for their requirements, there will be no problems when it comes to installing them into their furniture. For you, this translates into fewer queries and returns to be processed.

Always up to date

Once you have included the link, you don't need to worry about anything else: our calculators are always up to date and we are constantly adding new features. This ensures that the calculators come up with the right answers whenever needed.
